CCNP MEMBERSHIP

We encourage each member of the CCNP to invite at least one other person in the field of neuropsychopharmacology to join our ranks. Please fill in your name as the sponsor and invite a colleague that you feel will be a valuable addition to the CCNP to submit an application for membership. This is very important since the larger the membership of the CCNP, the more representative of the field of neuropsychopharmacology research it will be. Please, therefore, consider asking all of your colleagues who are interested in research to consider joining. Those wishing to apply for CCNP membership can do so on-line at the CCNP website (<http://www.ccnp.ca>).

Membership dues are $150 per year for Fellows and $25 per year for both Junior Members and Retired Fellows. Subscription to the Journal of Psychiatry and Neuroscience, the CCNP's official journal, is offered to the CCNP membership free of charge.

CANADIAN COLLEGE OF NEUROPSYCHOPHARMACOLOGY
COLLÈGE CANADIEN DE NEUROPSYCHOPHARMACOLOGIE

Heinz Lehmann Award For Outstanding Contributions to Neuropsychopharmacology Sponsored by Pfizer Canada Inc.

The Heinz Lehmann Award is designed to recognize the outstanding contributions and distinguished career by a single individual in the field of research in neuropsychopharmacology in Canada. The Award consists of $2,000 honorarium and a suitably engraved plaque. The Heinz Lehmann Award shall be presented annually for work done primarily in Canada by Canadian scientists. Exceptionally, if there is no qualified nominee in the view of the Awards Committee, the award will not be given.

Eligibility shall include individuals from academic institutions, foundations, governmental, industrial and research organizations, regardless of age or sex. The decision of the Awards Committee shall be based on originality and uniqueness of approach to clinical or laboratory research that had led to new, significant neuropsychopharmacological knowledge or concepts, or to the development of new therapeutic agents for the treatment of mental diseases. This should be evidenced by contributions based either on a specific piece of research or on a large body of neuropsychopharmacological research done over a period of years. In assessing individual publications, the committee will consider citation history, but not to the exclusion of other information. For works by multiple authors, the particular contribution of the award nominee must be clearly specified. The Awardee is expected to give a lecture based on his/her research at the Annual Meeting of the CCNP, and to contribute a manuscript based on the lecture to the CCNP official journal, the Journal of Psychiatry & Neuroscience, no later than six months after the lecture.

CCNP Innovations in Neuropsychopharmacology Research Award For Outstanding Innovations in Neuropsychopharmacology by an Individual or Group Sponsored by Pfizer Canada Inc.

The Innovations in Neuropsychopharmacology Research Award is designed to recognize innovative research in neuropsychopharmacology by independent investigators. The Award consists of $2,000 and a suitably engraved plaque. The Innovations in Neuropsychopharmacology Award shall be presented annually for work done primarily in Canada by Canadian scientists. Exceptionally, if there is no qualified nominee in the view of the Awards Committee, the award will not be given.

The decision of the Awards Committee will be based solely on the outstandingly innovative nature of the work by an individual or a group, as demonstrated by a single piece of research or by a body of work contributed over a number of years. Since science, by its nature, generates novel findings, the Awards Committee will seek more than the reporting of novel data. In particular, the committee will seek to identify contributions that have had a major impact in the field, for example: the introduction of a new research tool, or findings that lead to new avenues of research or successfully challenge the prevailing consensus. In assessing individual publications, the committee will consider citation history, but not to the exclusion of other information. For works by multiple authors, the particular contribution of the award nominee or nominated team (typically no more than 2 or 3) must be clearly specified. The Awardee(s) is/are expected to give a lecture based on his/her/their research at the Annual Meeting of the CCNP, and to contribute a manuscript, based on the lecture, to the CCNP official journal, the Journal of Psychiatry & Neuroscience, not later than six months after the lecture.

Nomination for 2020 Innovations in Neuropsychopharmacology Research Award

The names of nominees should be received by Dr. Francesco Leri by November 30th, 2019. Supporting documentation must be received by December 31st, 2019. For each award, this documentation shall consist of:

1. A completed CCNP Innovations Award checklist, signed by the nominee.
2. A two-page summary prepared by the sponsor describing the nominee's work and what makes it innovative and influential, furthering the field of neuropsychopharmacology.
3. Up to 5 manuscripts or reprints considered by the sponsor to be pertinent to the nomination and which highlight the nominee's work.
4. The nominee's curriculum vitae.
5. A brief biographical sketch of the candidate prepared by the sponsor.

Young Investigator Award

For Outstanding Contributions to Neuropsychopharmacology by a Young Investigator Sponsored by Pfizer Canada Inc.

The Young Investigator Award is designed to recognize outstanding contributions in the field of research in neuropsychopharmacology by an individual young basic scientist or clinical investigator in Canada. Applications will be judged primarily on the basis of the candidate's work as an independent investigator. The Award consists of a $2,000 honorarium and a suitably engraved plaque. The Young Investigator Award shall be presented annually for work done primarily in Canada by Canadian scientists, unless there is, in the view of the Awards Committee, no qualified nominee.

The major selection criterion is that the candidate be actively engaged in high quality neuropsychopharmacological research in Canada. There is no restriction concerning the field in which nominees have obtained their doctoral degree, but not more than ten years should have elapsed since the completion of their post-doctoral or residency training by July of the year of presentation. It is not required that the candidates be members of the College or have an academic appointment. The Awardee is expected to give a lecture based on his/her research at the Annual Meeting of the CCNP, and to contribute a manuscript based on the lecture to the CCNP official journal, the Journal of Psychiatry & Neuroscience, no later than six months after the lecture.
